PORMER CORPORATION COUNSEL AND WELL-KNOWN HORSEMAN.

eases He Was the Builder of the 8800,000 Trotting Track at Yorkers and the Owner of Many Noted Trotters and Runners Once Prominent in Tammany. William H. Clark, formerly Corporation

Counsel, and a man well known in the political, financial and sporting worlds, died yesterday morning athis home, 152 West Seventy-sixth street, of a complication of diseases. Mr. Clark's teath was unexpected, although he had been Il for some time. He had been a sufferer from pronchitis and also had a serious stomach trouble, but he had not been obliged to take to his bed until Friday. His illness took a sudden turn for the worse shortly after midnight, and Drs. Cyrus Edson and Alexander Taylor, who have been attending him, were hastily summoned. Mr. Clark railled under treatment, but sank again later in the morning and he died shortly before 7 clock. He leaves a wife and two children, The funeral arrangements have not yet been made, but services will probably be held on made, but services will probably be held on Tuesday afternoon in the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, in Seventy-first street.

Mr. Clark was born in Newark, N. J., on Nov. 29, 1855. He had a public school education, at the conclusion of which he took a law course in this city. He began active practice in the office of James M. Chapman, and later became a partner of Bourke Cockran. Mr. Clark served as Sheriff's counsel under Sheriff Davidson and Hugh J. Grant. In the latter's term Mr. Clark defended more than nine hundred suits brought against the Sheriff, and in only one case was judgment rendered against him. In this period he framed a number of bills exempting the Sheriff's office from much of the responsibility resting on it. As a lawver in private practice, Mr. Clark was engaged in many prominent cases, one of his best efforts being the defence of Jacob Sharp, in which he was associated with Mr. Cockran.

All of this time Mr. Clark was becoming a political power. He was the legal adviser of Grant, Gilroy and other leaders of Tammany Hall, and when Mr. Grant was elected Mayor, he retained Mr. Clark in office. At the end of his second term Mr. Clark retired to private life, devoting his attention to his business in Wall Street. He had made considerable money in real estate transactions and his ventures in Wall Street were said to have been very successful. He was credited with being a millionaire and his lavish expenditures of money on race horses and in the entertainment of his irlends indicated that he was a rich man.

Mr. Clark was a great lover of the horse and Tuesday afternoon in the Church of the

In 1894, he begint of all of success that year with a small stable. Later on he made extensive purchases of running horses, securing among others, the Brooklyn Handicap winner Banastar. He engaged the best lockeys in the East, and from that time on was a prominent factor in turf matters. At the time of his death he had a small stable of runners, stabling at Morris Park first two years on the turf that Mr. Clark undertook to build the magnificent Empire City trotting track at Yonkers, which was onened last year. The cost of the track was something like $800,000. Former State Senator Frank P. Treanor, who is Mr. Clark's business partner, is the superintendent of the new track.

Mr. Clark's private stable in West Seventy-sixth street was one of the most elaborately equipped places of its kind in New York. It was there that he gave to a party of forty friends the much-talked-of-$5,000 dinner soon after the inauguration of Gov. Roosevelt, on whose election Mr. Clark won the money from Col. William L. Brown. Mr. Clark was a prominent exhibitor at the National Horse Show in the classes for high steppers and trotters. His young trotting stallion Warrenwood, by Director, the sire of Directum, 2:05%, carried off one of the important ribbons at the Garden in 1808. At the same show his well-known Park horse Last Coup was among the high-steppers that figured prominently.

Mr. Clark was very fond of trotters and up to last year, when he undertook the construction of the Empire City track, he maintained an extensive breeding farm in New Jersey, a string of horses in training and a collection of flyers for road driving. The fastest trotter Mr. Clark ever owned was the bay gelding Dick, by Elberton. This horse was presented to him about five years ago by his intimate friend. Lou Payn of Albany. Dick was then untrained and without a record. Mr. Clark sent him to E. R. Bowne to train and the former member of the Stock Exchange drove him to a record of 2:12% at the end of a brilliant campaign. Mr. Clark also owned the fast mare Nutshell, by Bayonne Prince, that Trainer Bowne drove to a record of 2:15 in 1856. After the racing season ended Bowne hooked the two trotters to pole one afternoon at Fleetwood Park and drove them a mile in 2:18% in double harness, making one of the fastest performances of the kind ever seen on the old track. Later Mr. Clark owned the enestnut stallion Judge Fisher, 2:14%, and many other fast ones. When he started in tould the Empire City track he sold all histroters. chestnut stallion Judge Fisher, 2:14%, and many other fast ones. The building of a combined trotting and driving track has been a favorite project of Mr. Clark's for several years, and as long ago as 1855 he was on the point of making an effort to bring the wealthy horsemen of New York together for this purpose. In the summer of 1898, after Fleetwood Park had been closed. Mr. Clark and three others conceived the pian of giving a trotting meeting at Morris Park. The arrangement of the course there was found to be unsuited to the purpose, on seeing which Mr. Clark said impulsively: "What's the matter with having a new track, anyhow?"

The next day he hooked up a pair of trotters and started out to find an available location in the vicinity of Yonkers. The property on which he afterward built the Empire City track was found that day and within twenty-four hours he had begun negotiations for its purchase. Ground was broken in the winter, about a year ago, and on Labor Day the course was opened with a Grand Circuit trotting meeting. Nearly 40,000 persons passed through the gates during the week, and the average time made in the races was faster than ever before known on any other track. The meeting was a remarkable success notwithstanding the lack of adequate transportation facilities, but the splendid course and grounds had cost $800,000, and Mr. Clark found himself in deep water. He was unable to pay all of the purses promptly, owing to his enormous expenditures in building the track.

to his enormous expenditures in building the track.

The Empire City course is known among horsemen as one of the finest and best-appointed racing properties in the world. The trotting-horse men of New York were so grateful to Mr. Clark that some of them made up a purse of $2,000 last fall for the purpose of presenting a testimonial to him.

Mr. Clark was a prominent member of the Suburban Club, the organization of riders and drivers whose home is in Depot Lane on Washington Heights.

Deputy Coroner Weston, after paying a visit to the Clark house yesterday, said that Mr. Clark had a weak heart and that his death had undoubtedly been hurried by exhaustion, caused by his insisting upon seeing the large pumber of visitors who called to see him on Friday.

THOMAS PERRINI, BAD BOY. End a Pistol and a Knife and Tried to Get a School Principal Arrested. Magistrate John Croak of the First District Court at New Brighton, Staten Island, was startled on Thursday afternoon by the cries of a child apparently in distress. In the hall of the building was a boy with torn clothing screaming and writhing. The Magistrate took the ing and writhing. The Magistrate took the lad into his office. He said he was Thomas Perrini, 12 years old, a son of Charles Perrini, an Italian storekeeper of 14 Richmond turnpike, Tompkinsville, that he was a rupil in school No. 1d at Tompkinsville; and that the principal, John J. Driscoil, had whipped and beaten him until his clothes were torn. He wanted to make a complaint against the principal. The Magistrate communicated by telephone with Mr. Driscoll, and the principal said be had The Magistrate communicated by telephone with Mr. Driscoil, and the principal said he had not beaten the boy, but that Thomas had cut his own clothing with a pair of seissors in the classroom. The Magistrate told both the boy and the principal to be in court yesterday morning. Mr. Driscoil, Borough Superintendent of Schools Hubbard R. Yetman and Miss Marie McGuire, a teacher, were in court at the trappointed time, but the boy did not appear. Mr. Yetman took from his pocket a 42-calibre revolver and a penkniie with a blade three inches long.

The latter has been missing for several months. Dr. Rowell knows of no one who would answer the description.

FILING OF VITAL STATISTICS. The Appellate Court Decides in a Test Cas

That the Cities Must Pay the Cost. ROCHESTER. Feb. 17 .- About all the regular practising physicians and midwives of this city are plaintiffs in actions brought against the His Death Due to a Complication of Discity to secure pay for registering vital statistics with the Board of Health. These it has been held by the authorities here that such payments should be made by others. Not being able to get their money in the ordinary course of events, the physicians and midwives have gone into the courts. One case has already gone to the Appellate Division and has been decided in favor of the physicians. Many been decided in favor of the physicians. Many similar suits are pending. The constitutionality of the law governing the registration of those statistics at municipal expense is involved in this case, and the law applies to every city in the State.

The test case was brought by Dr. Keeler. It was successful in the Municipal Court and indegment was granted against the city for $19.75, of which $7.25 was for costs. The city then appealed to the County Court, but by stipulation the case was appealed directly to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, as the ruling of the higher court was wasted, in view of the fact that it was a test case. The city contended that it should not pay for the statistics because they are merely records for the State Board of Health, and it would be diverting money to State purposes. Attorney Oits, who appeared for Dr. Keeler, contended that the statistics are of great benefit to the local Health Board and Health Officer Goler agrees with him on this point and is anxious to have the claimants paid under the law. The decision of the Appellate Division, which was unanimous, affirmed in all respects that of the lower court, and directed that the city pay the costs of the proceeding.

GREEN GOODS MEN FREED.

IS APPARENTLY PROTECTED.

Assistant District Attorney Townsend Told the Court Possession of Green Goods Circulars Was Not Against the State Law and the Men Were Discharged. Frank Brooks, Charles Jackson and Thomas Gilbert, who were arrested at 35 and 37 Frankfort street on Wednesday afternoon where they were conducting a green-goods plant, were discharged by Magistrate Cornell in the Centre street police court yesterday afternoon. Post Office Inspector Ashe said that the Department had been unable to get any evidence that any of the green-goods circulars had been mailed, and that the case was not one for the Federal authorities. Assistant District Attor-ney Townsend told the Magistrate that the State laws made no provision for simply having green-goods circulars in one's possession, and that no charge could be made against the site. The county Court, but by stipulation the case was appealed directly to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, as the ruling of the higher court was wasted in view of the fact that it was a test case. Mrs. Beers Sues Mrs. White-An Alleged Bigamous Marriage Involved. Norwalk, Conn., Feb. 17.-Mrs. E. H. Beers of Bethel, daughter of David T. Squares of Water street, Norwalk, has brought suitagainst Mrs. Almira White of Stamford for $5,000 damages for alienating her husband's affections. The paper has not been served on Mrs. White, as she is away from home, but stock owned by her in the Citizens' Saving Bank, Stamford, has been attached. Mrs. White met Beers last fall when he was stopping in Stamford and was acting as agent for a gas machine. He went to Bethel in October and told his wife, whom he had visited only at rare intervals, that he had gotten into the swell set of Stamford, and he brought back with him his best ciothes. Soon afterward, it is charged, that he and Mrs. White went to New York and were marked.

and Mrs. White went to New York and were married.

As soon as it was learned in Bethel of the alleged bigamous marriage an effort was made to secure the arrest of Beers. He was finally found by a deputy sheriff in a hotel at New London, As he was about to be taken into custody he asked permission of the officer to go to his room to change his clothes, but after permission was granted he took advantage of the opportunity to jump through a window and escape. He was later arrrested in New Haven and again escaped from the officers by jumping from a train at Norwalk. Since them nothing has been seen of him in these parts.

Mrs. White belongs to a well-known family of Stamford. Mrs. Beers has three children, and since the desertion of her husband has been compelled to ask aid of the town of Bethel.

The Ridgefield and Teaneck Railroad Company was organized yesterday at 55 Montgomery street. Jersey City, with a capital of $500,-000. The incorporators are James C. Young of Jersey City, Armitage Mattews of this city and George E. Spencer of Brooklyn. The company proposes to run a trolley line through the Overreck Creek section of Bergen county, N. J. from Ridgetield to Teaneck, a distance of about three miles. It will not be identified with the Shanley syndicate, which owns nearly all the trolley lines in north Jersey.
